Training Programme On Office Filing Procedure

Organised By
Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC)
Barbhag College

Date: 09/05/2018

Venue: Auditorium, Barbhag College

On 09/05/2018, Saturday, a training programme was organised on “Office Filing Procedure” for the non-teaching Staff by the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of Barbhag College. Dr. Anupam Dutta, Associate Professor of the Department of English and Coordinator of IQAC, Barbhag College was present as the resource person of the training programme. The training Programme was anchored by Dr. Kishore Kalita, Librarian Barbhag College. Mr. Phanidhar Deka, Principal-in-Charge of Barbhag College presided over the training programme.

In the training programme, Resource Person Dr. Dutta started his speech by explaining the importance of Office Filing Procedure in maintaining office data systematically. He explained that most often due to the wrongly-designed documents spread massive miscommunication and discrepancies between the working departments in an organization. As a result, a lot of time is consumed unnecessarily behind each and every work. This is why; office filling has become an important aspect of well organised office set up. Dr. Dutta, in his speech, defined Office Filing Procedure as a set of clearly defined and pan-organization followed practices in filing documents and important papers. It is the central record keeping system for the organisation. Filing procedure helps office to be organised, systematic, efficient and transparent. The office files should be kept in systematic manners so that files can be searched easily without difficulties. He then, explained some of the basic practices to organise office setup to manage its work efficiently, like separate documents by their types in separate files, to manage register, to use chronological and alphabetical order, to organise filing space, to colour code filing system, to label filing system, to dispose unnecessary documents and to digitalise filing system etc. Then, elaborating his ideas on office filing management, Dr. Dutta, also talked about the need of classifying active and inactive files, which is beneficial for practical use. Adding to this, Dr. Dutta said that the college should develop a “File Retention Schedule”, in which the files would be evaluated on the basis of their primary and secondary value. The value of these files/records depends on the utilization at the time of ongoing operations. The primary value of each file depends on administrative value, research value, fiscal value and research value. Again, the secondary value depends on information value and evidence value. Again, he advised transfer of files to remote storage areas based on periodic and perpetual method of transfer. At the end of his speech, Dr. Dutta advised to develop “digital storage” through computers, office system softwares, optical character recognition and optical disc technology.

Mr. Phanidhar Deka, Principal-in-Charge of Barbhag College and the President of the Training Programme expressed his view on office filing procedure and requested the college staffs to be organised in maintaining office files accordingly to better office functioning. At the end of the programme, Dr. Kishore Kalita gave vote of thanks to all the participants.

With the presence of 25 participants, the training programme ended with positive note.

TRAINING PROGRAMME ON OFFICE MANAGEMENT PROCEDURE

ORGANISED BY
INTERNAL QUALITY ASSURANCE CELL (CELL),
BARBHAG COLLEGE

DATE: 24/09/2018

VANUE: CONFERENCE HALL

On 24/09/2018, Monday, a training programme for the support staff was organised by the Internal Quality Assurance Cell of Barbhag College. The topic of the training programme was “Office Management Procedure”. The programme was presided over by the Principal-in-Charge of Barbhag College, Mr. Phanidhar Deka. Resource person of the training programme was Dr. Kishore Kalita, Librarian of Barbhag College. Mr. Babul Chandra Deka, Ex-Principal of Barbhag Kalag Higher Secondary School was presented in the training Programme as the invited guest.

Resource person Dr Kishore Kalita started his speech by addressing all the participants of the programme and then introduced the topic of “office management procedure”. At first, he defined office management as the process that involves planning, design, implementation of work in an organisation and its office. The procedure includes a focused work environment and coordinates and guides the activities of the office to achieve the objectives and goals. This procedure, to Dr. Kishore Kalita, is important which is used to evaluate and adjust and to improve the efficiency, effectiveness and productivity of the office. Thus, the office management procedure is essential to improve the functioning of the office.

Then explaining the procedure of office management, Dr Kishore Kalita also talked about the key functions of the office management. These are:

Planning:

One main role of office management is to create a plan to meet office goals and objectives. According to Dr. Kishore Kalita, planning involves allocating employee resources and delegating responsibilities, as well as setting realistic timelines and standards for completion. It requires those in management roles to continuously check on team progress in order to make small adjustments when necessary, while still maintaining a clear picture of larger aims and goals of administration.

Organising

Along with planning, Dr. Kishore Klaita also emphasised on organising as one of the important functions of office management. From establishing internal processes and structures to knowing which employees are best suited for specific tasks, keeping everyone and everything organized throughout daily operations are important functions of office management.

Leadership

Another principle function of office management, to Dr. Kishore Kalita is the function of leadership. It can manifest itself in a number of ways, including recognizing when employees need an extra boost of reinforcement and praise to handling conflicts between team members fairly and decisively. Often, managers may function as leaders even during small personal interactions by modelling supportive, encouraging, and motivational qualities.

Controlling

To ensure all of the above functions are working toward the success of office, Dr Kishore Kalita stressed on the function of controlling. The senior should consistently monitor employees' performance, quality of work, and the efficiency and reliability of completed task. Control in management is about making sure the ultimate goals of the office administration are being adequately met, as well as making any necessary changes when they aren't.

At the end of his speech, Dr. Kishore Kalita suggested the office staffs present in the training programme to maintain cooperation and to work with full spirit to achieve the goals of administration. He also maintained that the functions of office management can extend logically from experience and skills development by formal training and requested the Principal-in-Charge to organise such training for professional development.

The honourable guest, Mr. Babul Chandra Deka, in his speech emphasised on the needs of maintaining strong office management procedures to achieve the goals of the administration in the college. To him, filing system, record keeping, organizing are some of the basic elements of keeping the office systematic.

At the end, Principal-in-Charge, Mr. Phanidhar Deka thanked everyone for being present in the training programme and assured to organise more useful training programme in future for the staffs. In this way, the programme ended in a positive note.

TRAINING PROGRAMME ON TOOLS OF DIGITAL MANAGEMENT

ORGANISED BY
INTERNAL QUALITY ASSURANCE CELL (IQAC)
BARBHAG COLLEGE

Date: 22/ 09/2018

Venue: Conference Hall

On 22/09/2018, Saturday, a Training Programme was organised by the Internal Quality Assurance Cell, Barbhag College for the professional development of the non-teaching Staff. The topic of the training programme was “Tools of Digital Management”. The programme was anchored by the Mr Hemanta Deka, Assistant Coordinator of Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), Barbhag College. In the training programme, Mr. Pritom Talukdar, Library Assistant of Royal Global School, Guwahati was present as the resource person. The programme was presided over by, Dr. Karuna Baruah, Academic Coordinator of Barbhag College.

Mr. Pritom Talukdar started his speech by addressing the participants and emphasising on the need of using tools for digital management of the office in colleges. At first, he explained the meaning of digital tools as the programmes, websites or online resources that can make tasks easier to complete in the offices through digitally without much paperwork. These tools are essential for the digital transformation of the offices. These are electronic tools, systems, devices and resources that generate store or process data and manage record keeping. Mr. Pritom Talukdar then introduced some of the basic digital tools for the management of office functions. These are:

Mr. Pritom Talukdar defined Google Drive as the Google’s cloud storage platform featuring Google Docs and Sheets. As a digital tool, it is of great use as it makes file creation, sharing, and collaboration possible. People can upload spreadsheets, presentations and documents, or create them from scratch using Google’s own software. To him, anybody can use this as it is incredibly simple and extremely convenient. Asana is another digital tool which is popular for its productivity and project management techniques. It helps to organize tasks by project, and break them down into sub-tasks with assigned users, deadlines, and associated notes. With flexible view options including a calendar view, it’s a great all-rounder for productivity and task management. ClickUp as a fun, colourful, drag and drop digital tool helps to organize multiple work streams in one place — including to-do list management, reminders, goal tracking, and time tracking that are of great help for any office. One of the mostly used accounting softwares is the Tally. This software is used for storing the business transactions of each account in detail. It is a great alternative of the time-consuming practice of keeping manual calculation. Due to this software, record keeping of financial transaction, customer bills have become an easy task. While mentioning about the use of digital tool in accounting, Mr. Pritom Talukdar, also mentioned about ZipBooks. It is a cloud-based tool that keeps the focus on the numbers with a fuss-free design that makes accounting, billing, and expenses feel easy. This financial software solution also runs intelligence reports that give useful insights into the office financial status. To the resource person, Confluence can be a useful contender for internal workspace and document management tool. It can organize projects, tasks, and notes in a cohesive way across office — giving everyone a single place to find the information and documents they need. It's easy for users to comment on documents and pages, too, opening up new routes for collaboration. Mr, Pritom Talukdar also mentioned about ShiftNote that is of great help for the people who work in shifts. ShiftNote uses smart automation technology to help automate employee scheduling, and it offers other useful features like group chat, announcements, and manager notes. It also features a manager log book to track key tasks, figures, and notes for every shift in one place.

In this way, the resource person talked in details about the available digital tools to make the office tasks easy to handle and to achieve the goals within the limited time. At the end of his speech, he also participated in an interactive session with the participants of the training programme.

Dr. Karuna Baruah, Academic Coordinator of Barbhag College, in his speech of the president of the programme, urged the participants to use all the digital tools available for the office function management and ensured to provide all the necessary help to organise the office digitally. At the end of the programme, Mr. Hemanta Deka, gave his speech of vote of thanks to all the participants of the programme. Thus, the training programme ended with a positive note.

FILING SYSTEM FOR OFFICE MANAGEMENT

Organised By

Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), Barbhag College

Date: 24/09/2019

Venue: Conference Hall

On 24/09/2018, a training programme for the professional development of the support staff was organised by the Internal Quality Assurance Cell, Barbhag College. The topic of the training programme was “Filing System for Office Management”. The resource person of the training programme was Dr. Kishore Kalita, Librarian of Barbhag College. In the training programme, academic coordinator, Dr. Karuna Baruah was also present. Mr. Shusanta Narayan Choudhury, Associate Professor of the Department of Education and Chairperson of the non-teaching staff was also present.

Dr. Kishore Kalita, after addressing the participants, started his speech by introducing the topic and by focussing on the role of proper filing system in modern office management. To him, the modern office is like a place where information and documents are stored and collected, processed, distributed in order to make it available for the purpose of official activities. Filing of records constitutes the core in office management. Filing may be defined as the process of arranging and storing records so that they can be located whenever required. It means placing of documents and records of different categories systematically that is, classifying, coding, arranging and placing the records in storage, so that they may be found and delivered when needed for future reference. The proper functioning of office depends upon record keeping or filing which must be maintained systematically, preserved with due care, and made available to the management with the required speed and accuracy.

Dr. Kishore Kalita, at the starting of his speech, divided the official files in different categories, like accounting file (invoices, vouchers, receipts etc) correspondence file (letters, notices, circulars, memos etc), purchase and sale record file (quotation, price list, challans etc) personnel file ( applications, bio-data, leave records etc), legal file ( statements, minutes, registers etc), administrative file (agreements, contracts, licenses etc) and miscellaneous file (office diaries, visitors’ book etc) etc. A sound system of office management is one in which proper methods and procedures are applied, and in which records and files are protected, are easy to find, not unduly space consuming, and are not retained beyond (I, their usefulness, In short, office management is concerned with the creation, distribution, maintenance. retention. preservation, utilisation and disposal of official files.

The resource person, Dr. Kalita then explained the objectives of filing management in office management. To him, the purpose of preserving files is to enable management to check on the progress of business. It is referred to as the historical function of files. File management also facilitates preparation of statements regarding the current business position: At any point of time, the office position can be known only by means of up to date records. File or Records facilitate comparison of activities between one period of time and another. This is known as the analytical function of files. Filing can also identify the inefficiency of operations and waste of resources can be detected and controlled only with the help of record data. It may be regarded as the control function of files. At the same time, filing is necessary to be preserved for the specified periods of time under the provision of various laws. Filing serves as proof of transactions and can be used as evidence the support of arguments in disputes or law suits.

The principles of filing in office, according to Dr. kalita are also manifold. To him, safety, time period, economy, flexibility, classification, justification and accessibility are some of the basic principles that guide the whole process of filing in office management. He also identified the essentials to develop an efficient filing system, like: safety, classification, suitability, simplicity, accessibility, flexibility, cross referencing and indexing which are to be maintained.

Dr. kalita, then talked about the filing routine or process in details. He identified few steps in the filing process, like instructions for filing, classification, indexing and coding, follow up, disposal of old unnecessary files and micro-filing which should be followed with utmost care to achieve the goals of office management.

Then, he came to the most crucial part of filing that is the methods for filing procedure. He suggested two methods: a) Horizontal filing and b) Vertical filing. Under the horizontal method of filing papers are placed in folders and the folders one kept in horizontal position. Folders or files containing papers are kept in drawers one upon the other and the papers are inserted in the order of date on which received or despatched. Guide cards may also be horizontally kept showing the movement of files. Under Vertical method, all papers, folders and files are kept in a vertical or standing upright position. Here the papers or letters are not fastened unlike in horizontal filing. Vertical filing is useful especially in large scale business organisations.

Dr. Kishore Kalita also participated in an interactive session with the participants. Thus, with the presence of the resource person and the other participants, the training programme ended in a positive note.

SPONSORED BY

(An autonomous body of Ministry of Education, Govt. of India)

Held on 11th & 12th February, 2022.

Organised by

Department of History, Barbhag College, Kalag, Nalbari, Assam

The Proceedings in brief:

The two days National Seminar was organised by the Department of History, Barbhag College scheduled on 21st & 22nd January 2022 and rescheduled due to Covid protocol which was held on 11th and 12th February, 2022 with the Title of “August Kranti Movement and Its Multi Faceted Dimensions in Assam reflected in the Freedom Struggle of India” sponsored by Indian Council of Historical Research (ICHR), New Delhi at the Barbhag College Premises.

India is now celebrating 75 years of its independence from the colonial regime. It is the time to commemorate the sacrifices of those martyrs and great soul as well those phases of hardship which could be the spirit of inspiration for the new generation. History is a preserver of the record and analysis of human civilization and freedom struggle is one of the important phases that make the very existence of today's India as a Nation. Thus history has to keep those phases in its order for future generation as a spirit of inspiration.

Assam, an integral part of the Indian Nation has entered into the nationhood during the colonial period. It is situated in the north eastern borderline of the greater India geographically and has been touched by the colonial hegemony of the British somewhat lately by 1826. Having the connectivity of Assam with the greater India, it has been inspired by the each and every resistance endeavour of the Indian people against the British and the heroes of this corner of India also selflessly did engage, lead and sacrifice in all the sphere of the Freedom Movement.

This seminar has provided a platform to commemorate the martyrs of the Indian freedom movement with its multifaceted dimensions and locating August Kranti Movement particularly in Assam and placing it in the history of freedom struggle of India in general with a holistic approach of history writing. The seminar has given an opportunity to draw out the picture of the August Kranti Movement at the micro level and helps to find out unsung heroes of each and every corner of Assam. The impact and participation of Assam in the various facet of the movement that leads us to an inclusive history of freedom struggle and energize the new generation of each and every corner of India with the great legacy of martyrdom of their soil. The Book exhibition of ICHR, NERC that we invited and organised along with the seminar had helped in popularising the subject and successfully attracted the students in this sphere of knowledge.

Inaugural Ceremony

As the Inaugural Session started at 10 A.M. on Day one, the guest and participants of the seminar were welcome with a morning message by the Co-ordinator Dr. Namita Devi at the very beginning and then the seminar was started with the lightening of the lamp followed by an inaugural session. Dr. Birendra Deka, President of Governing Body and Dr. Birinchi Choudhury, Principal of Barbhag College lit the inaugural lamp along with all dignitaries present in the session with 'Deepa Stuti' performed by Dr. Namita Devi, Coordinator of the seminar. The Session was hosted by Dr. Anupam Dutta, IQAC Co-ordinator of Barbhag College. The Inaugural session was started by a patriotic song 'Viswa Bijay Na-Jwan' performed by the students of Barbhag College and the lyrics of the song was written by renown laureate and freedom fighter Jyotiprasad Agarwala. The welcome address was given by Nivedita Goswami, Vice Principal of Barbhag College and in her address she highlighted the importance of the topic to the young generation. She also said that our nation not only having to face the external enemies but a lot of internal detractors as well. So knowing our nation with its strength and weaknesses, the study and research in historical facts are very important. In her speech, she highlighted the importance of August Kranti Movement which was a mass movement in the true sense against the British and mentioned that the participation of Assam in the phases of August Kranti where the Britisher's saw the might of the Assamese people. She also briefed up about the College and welcomed all the dignitaries and participants gathered for the seminar with a humble request to bear with the shortcomings of the institutional infrastructure. Dr. Sanjib Goswami, in his talk as Chief Guest discussed that "An important aspect of the Quit India movement was the way the movement was implemented. This was designed and implemented through various programmes in a pyramidal structure... The role of the subalterns and the protests of the marginalised and people in the fringes were ignored. Any activity that did not fall within the pyramid structure set up by the Congress was considered against the spirit of the movement. It is for this reason that any form of violence such as those relating to the Chauri-Chaura incident, the derailment of the train in Morigaon, the martyrdom of many in Assam including Kushal Konwar, Kanaklata Barua, Bhogeswari Phukanani, Rebati Lahon, Kahuli Devi and several others do not find mention in the national historical narratives of the Quit India movement. This therefore gives us further scope to research the neglect of events in the periphery like Assam or of those by the marginalised and subaltern people. As the Azadika Amrit Mahotsav is being celebrated, this seminar should also research into a critical analysis of the Quit India movement in the light of international historical protests worldwide. The events in South Africa against apartheid, the Russian Revolution, the two nation resolution of the Muslim League in 1940, as well as the visit of Veer Savarkar to Assam in 1941, just prior to the Quit India movement are all events that hold much research potential and thus throws light on the multidimensional aspects of the Freedom Struggle in general and Quit India Movement in particular. Dr. Barnali Sarma, Associate Professor, Dept. of History, Gauhati University as a key note speaker highlighted about the importance of the phase and said that ‘as the seminar is on the August revolution we need to question what is so very specific of the movement. The seminar also attempts to probe into its multifaceted dimensions in Assam. So here I would like to set a pen picture of the time on which the scholars will address the different issues and of course with different perspectives in this two day seminar. Quit India or Bharat Choro are the simple but powerful slogan which launched this legendary struggle which we also call the August revolution. The quit India movement was started in a situation when Great Britain was engaged in a life and death struggle for its survival against the Axis power comprising Germany, Italy and Japan. Cripps mission who came with British war cabinets’ proposal on Indian question too failed as it did not carry any hope of independence after the end of the war. The situation in Assam was also critical as it was a frontier province. During this period it was in the grip of three terrible crisis- (1) the police repression consequent on launching the quit India Movement for freedom and independence (2) the economic and social dislocation caused by the imperial war effort coupled with the Japanese aggression and evacuees problem and (3) the famine problems and its impact on the life and activities of the people of the province. She also said that the Quit India movement though it did not bring independence in its immediate result, but it lowered the prestige of the colonial regime and shattered the so called invincibility of Great Britain’.

The webinar started with Dr. Choudhury delivering the welcome address at 11.00 a.m. The resource person for day-1, 26.06.22, was Dr. Sanjay Kr. Singh, Professor in the Dept. of Library and Information Science, Gauhati University. Dr. Singh gave a detailed presentation on the different MOOCs platforms including SWAYAM, and how to offer online courses on these platforms. He explained that it has now become very important for teachers to go for designing online courses and offering those on MOOCs platforms. He also informed the participants that there is financial assistance available for teachers from some agencies under Ministry of Education for designing courses for MOOCs. He then went on to present the different technicalities associated with designing an online course and also talked on the procedure for applying for approval for these courses for being offered on MOOCs platforms including in SWAYAM.

The presentation was followed by an interactive session. The participants present in the programme asked several questions regarding how to get proper training for being able to design online courses. Dr. Singh informed the participants that there are quite a few resourceful persons in the universities in Assam itself who can conduct training on designing online courses for MOOCs. Colleges can organize workshops and training programmes inviting these resourceful persons to train up the teachers.

The proceedings of Day-1 Concluded with Dr. Anupam Duatta giving the vote of thanks.

Day-2

She informed the participants that they can learn to design an online course by enrolling themselves in some short courses on the subject on MOOCs platform itself. Dr. Bordoloi, in her presentation showed how to begin the procedure of first planning the course, then applying for initial approval and then actually focusing on designing the course. ## AY INTERDISCIPLINARY WORKSHOP ON INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS (IPR)

Organised By
IQAC, Barbhag College
Date: 10th January, 2022

Keeping in view the importance of Intellectual Property Rights, the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of Barbhag College has organised a one-day interdisciplinary workshop on Intellectual Property rights (IPR) on 10th January, 2022. The workshop was held by keeping in mind the restriction imposed by the district administration due to the outbreak of the third wave of COVID-19. Though limited in numbers, faculty of different colleges attended the workshop. At the beginning of the workshop, the Keynote address was given by Ajit Sarma, HOD, English Department of Barbhag College and the welcome address was given by Nivedita Goswami, Principal-in-charge of Barbhag College. Dr. Dhaneswar Baisya, Associate Professor of Political Science department chaired the sessions of the workshop.

The workshop was divided into two technical sessions. In the first session, Siddhartha Devnath, Scientist 'C', Patent Information Centre, Assam Science, Technology and Environment Council (ASTEC) was presented as the Special guest, who graced the occasion with his vast knowledge on the discussed topic of the workshop. The topic of his speech was "Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) and Patent". Describing Intellectual Property, he said that the intellectual properties are those things that are created in mind and expressed in some form or other. It must have the proof of ownership and should be recognised under the act of law. He cited the examples of light bulbs, pen, jewellery, etc as intellectual property. Elaborating ideas on intellectual rights, he also mentioned some forms of intellectual property, like inventions, designs, mark used in trade-brand name, mark used in goods to show its geographical origin, layout designs of integrated Circuit (IC), new varieties of plants, and literary, artistic, musical creation as well. He also talked about the rights enjoyed by people under intellectual property, like rights to enjoy the owner of an intellectual property, right to exploit, license, assign, surrender etc as the owner. Talking about the different types of intellectual property, he also mentioned the legislations enacted by the Government of India for maintaining intellectual property. Examples of such legislations are The Patent Act (1970), The Design Act (2000), The Trademark Act (1999), and The Geographical Indications of Goods (Registration and Protection act, 1999) etc that play key role in maintaining intellectual property ownership. By imparting his knowledge on one of the major concepts of intellectual property i.e. “Copyright” he mentioned about patent and also about its significance for owners. He described patent as a legal grant of exclusive rights for an invention (product or process) provided by the government to the creator of a new and useful invention. Under the Patent Act of 1970, the inventor gets patent rights for a period of 20 years. He also elaborately discussed some criteria of patent, like novelty, inventive step, industrial applicability etc. In his speech, he also made a difference between the inventions that can be patented and those which cannot be patented. At the end, he talked about the different stages of patent from application to grant, fees and process of patent.

After a short break, the second session of the workshop began. Dipen Deka, Assistant Professor, Department of Library and Information Science of Gauhati University was the special guest in this session. The topic of his speech was “Copyright”. He discussed copyright mainly in relation to literary and fictional creations. To him, the copyright procedure in India is maintained by the Copyright Act of 1957. He mentioned that people can cite other’s works with proper acknowledgement and prior permission of the owner of the copyright for research or private study, for reporting current events and in connection with judicial proceedings. He identified the creators who are given copyright rights. Those are: a music composer, a film producer, a sound producer, a photographer and also an author who creates literary works. He also mentioned that copyright is also assignable for future work too. The term of copyright in literary works is 60 years and the performer’s right is 25 years. Again, he also talked about “Plagiarism” and what causes plagiarism and advised people the method how to avoid the fault of plagiarism.

A total of 40 participants from various colleges took part in this one-day workshop and made it a huge success.

Date: 11th June, 2022

Venue: Barbhag College

A state level workshop on “Revised Assessment and Accreditation Framework of NAAC 2022” was organized by Nalbari Zone of Assam College Teachers’ Association (ACTA) in collaboration with IQAC, Barbhag College in the Conference Hall of Barbhag College on the 11th of June, 2022. A total Number of 51 participants took part in the workshop. Prof.(Dr.) Utpal Sarma was the Resource Person in the workshop, which was chaired by Dr. Dhaneswar Kalita, President of Nalbari Zone of ACTA.

Inaugural Session

The inaugural session started with the President of Barbhag College Governing Body lighting the ceremonial lamp at 10.30 a.m. It was followed by the welcome address delivered by Dr. Birinchi Choudhury, Principal of Barbhag College. Dr. Kamal Nayan Patowary, Principal of Nalbari College, Assam formally inaugurated the workshop. In his inaugural speech Dr. Patowary stressed on the fact that for an HEI to progress systematically and consistently, it is very important that the institution regularly keeps assessing itself and gets itself assessed by an external agency from time to time. He said that the role of NAAC in this respect is very crucial. For almost three decades now NAAC has been taking quality initiatives to uplift the HEIs qualitatively. It is necessary for each and every institution to keep itself abreast of the latest trends in quality culture in higher education. He congratulated ACTA and Barbhag College for having conceived this workshop on a very pertinent subject.

Technical Session

The technical Session which started at 11.00 a.m., was chaired by Dr. Dhaneswar Kalita, President of Nalbari Zone of ACTA. Prof (Dr.) Utpal Sarma gave an elaborate presentation on the latest assessment and accreditation framework of Naac. Prof. Sarma, Who is the former Coordinator of IQAC, Gauhati University, explained every criterion in the SSR format issued by Naac on June 1, 2022. He showed how the SSR has to be prepared keeping in mind the strengths and weaknesses of an HEI. He said that it is very important that each HEI prepares and submits the AQARs regularly so that the process of preparing the SSR becomes easier. He particularly emphasized the fact that smaller HEIs should exploit their strengths and utilize the minimal resources at their disposal to the optimum level. He drew the attention of the participants to certain critical key indicators which the HEIs have to focus on throughout a year in order to be able to make progress on those areas and thereby to uplift the quality of the institution. Prof. Sarma explained every key indicator and its importance in improving the overall quality of an institution. He also clearly explained the latest procedure of applying for assessment and accreditation by NAAC.

Following his presentation, Dr. Sarma handed out some questionnaire to the participants and asked them to fill up those questionnaire in order to see if the participants have actually understood the procedure of preparing the SSR clearing answering every key question under each key indicator in every criterion. The participants asked several questions regarding certain critical questions in some criteria. The participants particularly wanted to know how smaller HEIs score good marks with limited financial resources. Dr. Sarma made it clear that more financial resources do not mean higher grades. Even smaller HEIs can get good grades if they can make optimum utilization of the limited resources at their disposal.

The technical session ended at 1.45 p.m. with the chair making the concluding remarks where he requested the participants to share whatever they from the workshop with their colleagues in their respective institutions.

Valedictory Session

An online national webinar on AQAR & Its Impact on NAAC Assessment was held on 8th May, 2022. The webinar was conducted on Google Meet platform. Dr Jyoti Bansal, Director, Quality Assurance and Accreditation, Adamas University, West Bengal, addressed the webinar as the Resource Person. Dr. Birinchi Choudhury, Principal, Barbhag College, also addressed the online gathering. Dr. Jyoti Bansal, the resource person, gave an elaborate presentation on the topic of the webinar. She explained how the AQAR and SSR format have been undergoing frequent changes in the last couple of years. She told the participants that it is very important for the HEIs to keep a close track of the changes in the NAAC guidelines. She explained how important it is to keep proper records of all the activities performed by different departments, cells and committees as well as the administration of the HE to be able to regularly prepare the AQARs. She said that if the AQARs are prepared and submitted to NAAC regularly and properly, the task of preparing the SSR becomes easy. She then went on to explain with a nice presentation on how to fill up each of the seven criteria of the AQAR. She told the participants and along with personal career development activities, departmental activities and other activities of the HEIs have to be regularly carried out regularly. For that each and every faculty member has to devote extra time. She said that it is important to introduce reforms and innovations in different aspects of an HEIs. Innovation, she said, is the key to development of an HEI.

After the presentation of the resource person, participants took part in a question and answer session. Many participants put crucial questions to Dr. Bansal with regard to different criteria in the AQAR. Most of the participants, including Dr. Anupam Dutta, IQAC Coordinator, Barbhag College wanted to know how an HEI submit a pending AQAR to NAAC. Dr. Bansal said that NAAC has opened the portal for submission of pending AQAR since 2017-18 and HEIs can now submit all pending AQARs since 2017-18. Only if an HEI submits AQAR for the last five years, then only it will be eligible for assessment and accreditation.

The webinar concluded at 9.30 p.m. following Dr. Kishor Kr. Deka giving the vote of thanks.

GUIDELINES TO FILL AQAR

AY INTERDISCIPLINARY WORKSHOP ON INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS (IPR)

Organised By
IQAC, Barbhag College
Date: 10th January, 2022

Keeping in view the importance of Intellectual Property Rights, the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of Barbhag College has organised a one-day interdisciplinary workshop on Intellectual Property rights (IPR) on 10th January, 2022. The workshop was held by keeping in mind the restriction imposed by the district administration due to the outbreak of the third wave of COVID-19. Though limited in numbers, faculty of different colleges attended the workshop. At the beginning of the workshop, the Keynote address was given by Ajit Sarma, HOD, English Department of Barbhag College and the welcome address was given by Nivedita Goswami, Principal-in-charge of Barbhag College. Dr. Dhaneswar Baisya, Associate Professor of Political Science department chaired the sessions of the workshop.

The workshop was divided into two technical sessions. In the first session, Siddhartha Devnath, Scientist 'C', Patent Information Centre, Assam Science, Technology and Environment Council (ASTEC) was presented as the Special guest, who graced the occasion with his vast knowledge on the discussed topic of the workshop. The topic of his speech was "Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) and Patent". Describing Intellectual Property, he said that the intellectual properties are those things that are created in mind and expressed in some form or other. It must have the proof of ownership and should be recognised under the act of law. He cited the examples of light bulbs, pen, jewellery, etc as intellectual property. Elaborating ideas on intellectual rights, he also mentioned some forms of intellectual property, like inventions, designs, mark used in trade-brand name, mark used in goods to show its geographical origin, layout designs of integrated Circuit (IC), new varieties of plants, and literary, artistic, musical creation as well. He also talked about the rights enjoyed by people under intellectual property, like rights to enjoy the owner of an intellectual property, right to exploit, license, assign, surrender etc as the owner. Talking about the different types of intellectual property, he also mentioned the legislations enacted by the Government of India for maintaining intellectual property. Examples of such legislations are The Patent Act (1970), The Design Act (2000), The Trademark Act (1999), and The Geographical Indications of Goods (Registration and Protection act, 1999) etc that play key role in maintaining intellectual property ownership. By imparting his knowledge on one of the major concepts of intellectual property i.e. “Copyright” he mentioned about patent and also about its significance for owners. He described patent as a legal grant of exclusive rights for an invention (product or process) provided by the government to the creator of a new and useful invention. Under the Patent Act of 1970, the inventor gets patent rights for a period of 20 years. He also elaborately discussed some criteria of patent, like novelty, inventive step, industrial applicability etc. In his speech, he also made a difference between the inventions that can be patented and those which cannot be patented. At the end, he talked about the different stages of patent from application to grant, fees and process of patent.

After a short break, the second session of the workshop began. Dipen Deka, Assistant Professor, Department of Library and Information Science of Gauhati University was the special guest in this session. The topic of his speech was “Copyright”. He discussed copyright mainly in relation to literary and fictional creations. To him, the copyright procedure in India is maintained by the Copyright Act of 1957. He mentioned that people can cite other’s works with proper acknowledgement and prior permission of the owner of the copyright for research or private study, for reporting current events and in connection with judicial proceedings. He identified the creators who are given copyright rights. Those are: a music composer, a film producer, a sound producer, a photographer and also an author who creates literary works. He also mentioned that copyright is also assignable for future work too. The term of copyright in literary works is 60 years and the performer’s right is 25 years. Again, he also talked about “Plagiarism” and what causes plagiarism and advised people the method how to avoid the fault of plagiarism.

A total of 40 participants from various colleges took part in this one-day workshop and made it a huge success.

National Seminar On

“August Kranti Movement and Its Multi Faceted Dimensions in Assam reflected in the Freedom Struggle of India”

Celebrating

Held on 11th & 12th February, 2022.

Organised by

Department of History, Barbhag College, Kalag, Nalbari, Assam

The Proceedings in brief:

The two days National Seminar was organised by the Department of History, Barbhag College scheduled on 21st & 22nd January 2022 and rescheduled due to Covid protocol which was held on 11th and 12th February, 2022 with the Title of “August Kranti Movement and Its Multi Faceted Dimensions in Assam reflected in the Freedom Struggle of India” sponsored by Indian Council of Historical Research (ICHR), New Delhi at the Barbhag College Premises.

India is now celebrating 75 years of its independence from the colonial regime. It is the time to commemorate the sacrifices of those martyrs and great soul as well those phases of hardship which could be the spirit of inspiration for the new generation. History is a preserver of the record and analysis of human civilization and freedom struggle is one of the important phases that make the very existence of today's India as a Nation. Thus history has to keep those phases in its order for future generation as a spirit of inspiration.

Assam, an integral part of the Indian Nation has entered into the nationhood during the colonial period. It is situated in the north eastern borderline of the greater India geographically and has been touched by the colonial hegemony of the British somewhat lately by 1826. Having the connectivity of Assam with the greater India, it has been inspired by the each and every resistance endeavour of the Indian people against the British and the heroes of this corner of India also selflessly did engage, lead and sacrifice in all the sphere of the Freedom Movement.

This seminar has provided a platform to commemorate the martyrs of the Indian freedom movement with its multifaceted dimensions and locating August Kranti Movement particularly in Assam and placing it in the history of freedom struggle of India in general with a holistic approach of history writing. The seminar has given an opportunity to draw out the picture of the August Kranti Movement at the micro level and helps to find out unsung heroes of each and every corner of Assam. The impact and participation of Assam in the various facet of the movement that leads us to an inclusive history of freedom struggle and energize the new generation of each and every corner of India with the great legacy of martyrdom of their soil. The Book exhibition of ICHR, NERC that we invited and organised along with the seminar had helped in popularising the subject and successfully attracted the students in this sphere of knowledge.

Inaugural Ceremony

As the Inaugural Session started at 10 A.M. on Day one, the guest and participants of the seminar were welcome with a morning message by the Co-ordinator Dr. Namita Devi at the very beginning and then the seminar was started with the lightening of the lamp followed by an inaugural session. Dr. Birendra Deka, President of Governing Body and Dr. Birinchi Choudhury, Principal of Barbhag College lit the inaugural lamp along with all dignitaries present in the session with 'Deepa Stuti' performed by Dr. Namita Devi, Coordinator of the seminar. The Session was hosted by Dr. Anupam Dutta, IQAC Co-ordinator of Barbhag College. The Inaugural session was started by a patriotic song 'Viswa Bijay Na-Jwan' performed by the students of Barbhag College and the lyrics of the song was written by renown laureate and freedom fighter Jyotiprasad Agarwala. The welcome address was given by Nivedita Goswami, Vice Principal of Barbhag College and in her address she highlighted the importance of the topic to the young generation. She also said that our nation not only having to face the external enemies but a lot of internal detractors as well. So knowing our nation with its strength and weaknesses, the study and research in historical facts are very important. In her speech, she highlighted the importance of August Kranti Movement which was a mass movement in the true sense against the British and mentioned that the participation of Assam in the phases of August Kranti where the Britisher's saw the might of the Assamese people. She also briefed up about the College and welcomed all the dignitaries and participants gathered for the seminar with a humble request to bear with the shortcomings of the institutional infrastructure. Dr. Sanjib Goswami, in his talk as Chief Guest discussed that "An important aspect of the Quit India movement was the way the movement was implemented. This was designed and implemented through various programmes in a pyramidal structure... The role of the subalterns and the protests of the marginalised and people in the fringes were ignored. Any activity that did not fall within the pyramid structure set up by the Congress was considered against the spirit of the movement. It is for this reason that any form of violence such as those relating to the Chauri-Chaura incident, the derailment of the train in Morigaon, the martyrdom of many in Assam including Kushal Konwar, Kanaklata Barua, Bhogeswari Phukanani, Rebati Lahon, Kahuli Devi and several others do not find mention in the national historical narratives of the Quit India movement. This therefore gives us further scope to research the neglect of events in the periphery like Assam or of those by the marginalised and subaltern people. As the Azadika Amrit Mahotsav is being celebrated, this seminar should also research into a critical analysis of the Quit India movement in the light of international historical protests worldwide. The events in South Africa against apartheid, the Russian Revolution, the two nation resolution of the Muslim League in 1940, as well as the visit of Veer Savarkar to Assam in 1941, just prior to the Quit India movement are all events that hold much research potential and thus throws light on the multidimensional aspects of the Freedom Struggle in general and Quit India Movement in particular. Dr. Barnali Sarma, Associate Professor, Dept. of History, Gauhati University as a key note speaker highlighted about the importance of the phase and said that ‘as the seminar is on the August revolution we need to question what is so very specific of the movement. The seminar also attempts to probe into its multifaceted dimensions in Assam. So here I would like to set a pen picture of the time on which the scholars will address the different issues and of course with different perspectives in this two day seminar. Quit India or Bharat Choro are the simple but powerful slogan which launched this legendary struggle which we also call the August revolution. The quit India movement was started in a situation when Great Britain was engaged in a life and death struggle for its survival against the Axis power comprising Germany, Italy and Japan. Cripps mission who came with British war cabinets’ proposal on Indian question too failed as it did not carry any hope of independence after the end of the war. The situation in Assam was also critical as it was a frontier province. During this period it was in the grip of three terrible crisis- (1) the police repression consequent on launching the quit India Movement for freedom and independence (2) the economic and social dislocation caused by the imperial war effort coupled with the Japanese aggression and evacuees problem and (3) the famine problems and its impact on the life and activities of the people of the province. She also said that the Quit India movement though it did not bring independence in its immediate result, but it lowered the prestige of the colonial regime and shattered the so called invincibility of Great Britain’.

The First technical session of the seminar had begun after the inaugural session. The session was started with the moderation of Sanchyita Khakholar, Assistant Professor, Dept. of History, and Barbhag College. The chairperson to this session was Dr. Sanjib Goswami, Professor and Head of the Centre for North-East, Mahapurusha Srimanta Shankardeva Vishwavidyalaya and the resource person was Dr. Akunthita Barthakur, Associate Professor, Dept. of History, and Cotton State University.

do research narrowing the scope of the study. He advised that the presenter should be careful in selecting the theme; to narrow down the topic, again he said the researcher should be clean in the way that it may have impact for a longer period of time.

AY INTERDISCIPLINARY WORKSHOP ON ELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS (IPR)

Organised By
IQAC, Barbhag College
Date: 10th January, 2022

Keeping in view the importance of Intellectual Property Rights, the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of Barbhag College has organised a one-day interdisciplinary workshop on Intellectual Property rights (IPR) on 10th January, 2022. The workshop was held by keeping in mind the restriction imposed by the district administration due to the outbreak of the third wave of COVID-19. Though limited in numbers, faculty of different colleges attended the workshop. At the beginning of the workshop, the Keynote address was given by Ajit Sarma, HOD, English Department of Barbhag College and the welcome address was given by Nivedita Goswami, Principal-in-charge of Barbhag College. Dr. Dhaneswar Baisya, Associate Professor of Political Science department chaired the sessions of the workshop.

The workshop was divided into two technical sessions. In the first session, Siddhartha Devnath, Scientist 'C', Patent Information Centre, Assam Science, Technology and Environment Council (ASTEC) was presented as the Special guest, who graced the occasion with his vast knowledge on the discussed topic of the workshop. The topic of his speech was "Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) and Patent". Describing Intellectual Property, he said that the intellectual properties are those things that are created in mind and expressed in some form or other. It must have the proof of ownership and should be recognised under the act of law. He cited the examples of light bulbs, pen, jewellery, etc as intellectual property. Elaborating ideas on intellectual rights, he also mentioned some forms of intellectual property, like inventions, designs, mark used in trade-brand name, mark used in goods to show its geographical origin, layout designs of integrated Circuit (IC), new varieties of plants, and literary, artistic, musical creation as well. He also talked about the rights enjoyed by people under intellectual property, like rights to enjoy the owner of an intellectual property, right to exploit, license, assign, surrender etc as the owner. Talking about the different types of intellectual property, he also mentioned the legislations enacted by the Government of India for maintaining intellectual property. Examples of such legislations are The Patent Act (1970), The Design Act (2000), The Trademark Act (1999), and The Geographical Indications of Goods (Registration and Protection act, 1999) etc that play key role in maintaining intellectual property ownership. By imparting his knowledge on one of the major concepts of intellectual property i.e. “Copyright” he mentioned about patent and also about its significance for owners. He described patent as a legal grant of exclusive rights for an invention (product or process) provided by the government to the creator of a new and useful invention. Under the Patent Act of 1970, the inventor gets patent rights for a period of 20 years. He also elaborately discussed some criteria of patent, like novelty, inventive step, industrial applicability etc. In his speech, he also made a difference between the inventions that can be patented and those which cannot be patented. At the end, he talked about the different stages of patent from application to grant, fees and process of patent.

After a short break, the second session of the workshop began. Dipen Deka, Assistant Professor, Department of Library and Information Science of Gauhati University was the special guest in this session. The topic of his speech was “Copyright”. He discussed copyright mainly in relation to literary and fictional creations. To him, the copyright procedure in India is maintained by the Copyright Act of 1957. He mentioned that people can cite other’s works with proper acknowledgement and prior permission of the owner of the copyright for research or private study, for reporting current events and in connection with judicial proceedings. He identified the creators who are given copyright rights. Those are: a music composer, a film producer, a sound producer, a photographer and also an author who creates literary works. He also mentioned that copyright is also assignable for future work too. The term of copyright in literary works is 60 years and the performer’s right is 25 years. Again, he also talked about “Plagiarism” and what causes plagiarism and advised people the method how to avoid the fault of plagiarism.

A total of 40 participants from various colleges took part in this one-day workshop and made it a huge success.

Venue: Barbhag College

A state level workshop on "Revised Assessment and Accreditation Framework of NAAC 2022" was organized by Nalbari Zone of Assam College Teachers' Association (ACTA) in collaboration with IQAC, Barbhag College in the Conference Hall of Barbhag College on the 11th of June, 2022. A total Number of 51 participants took part in the workshop. Prof.(Dr.) Utpal Sarma was the Resource Person in the workshop, which was chaired by Dr. Dhaneswar Kalita, President of Nalbari Zone of ACTA.

Inaugural Session

The inaugural session started with the President of Barbhag College Governing Body lighting the ceremonial lamp at 10.30 a.m. It was followed by the welcome address delivered by Dr. Birinchi Choudhury, Principal of Barbhag College. Dr. Kamal Nayan Patowary, Principal of Nalbari College, Assam formally inaugurated the workshop. In his inaugural speech Dr. Patowary stressed on the fact that for an HEI to progress systematically and consistently, it is very important that the institution regularly keeps assessing itself and gets itself assessed by an external agency from time to time. He said that the role of NAAC in this respect is very crucial. For almost three decades now NAAC has been taking quality initiatives to uplift the HEIs qualitatively. It is necessary for each and every institution to keep itself abreast of the latest trends in quality culture in higher education. He congratulated ACTA and Barbhag College for having conceived this workshop on a very pertinent subject.

Technical Session

The technical Session which started at 11.00 a.m., was chaired by Dr. Dhaneswar Kalita, President of Nalbari Zone of ACTA. Prof (Dr.) Utpal Sarma gave an elaborate presentation on the latest assessment and accreditation framework of Naac. Prof. Sarma, Who is the former Coordinator of IQAC, Gauhati University, explained every criterion in the SSR format issued by Naac on June 1, 2022. He showed how the SSR has to be prepared keeping in mind the strengths and weaknesses of an HEI. He said that it is very important that each HEI prepares and submits the AQARs regularly so that the process of preparing the SSR becomes easier. He particularly emphasized the fact that smaller HEIs should exploit their strengths and utilize the minimal resources at their disposal to the optimum level. He drew the attention of the participants to certain critical key indicators which the HEIs have to focus on throughout a year in order to be able to make progress on those areas and thereby to uplift the quality of the institution. Prof. Sarma explained every key indicator and its importance in improving the overall quality of an institution. He also clearly explained the latest procedure of applying for assessment and accreditation by NAAC.

Following his presentation, Dr. Sarma handed out some questionnaire to the participants and asked them to fill up those questionnaire in order to see if the participants have actually understood the procedure of preparing the SSR clearing answering every key question under each key indicator in every criterion. The participants asked several questions regarding certain critical questions in some criteria. The participants particularly wanted to know how smaller HEIs score good marks with limited financial resources. Dr. Sarma made it clear that more financial resources do not mean higher grades. Even smaller HEIs can get good grades if they can make optimum utilization of the limited resources at their disposal.

The technical session ended at 1.45 p.m. with the chair making the concluding remarks where he requested the participants to share whatever they from the workshop with their colleagues in their respective institutions.

Valedictory Session

Dr. Birinchi Choudhury, Principal, Barbhag College, also addressed the online gathering. Dr. Jyoti Bansal, the resource person, gave an elaborate presentation on the topic of the webinar. She explained how the AQAR and SSR format have been undergoing frequent changes in the last couple of years. She told the participants that it is very important for the HEIs to keep a close track of the changes in the NAAC guidelines. She explained how important it is to keep proper records of all the activities performed by different departments, cells and committees as well as the administration of the HE to be able to regularly prepare the AQARs. She said that if the AQARs are prepared and submitted to NAAC regularly and properly, the task of preparing the SSR becomes easy. She then went on to explain with a nice presentation on how to fill up each of the seven criteria of the AQAR. She told the participants and along with personal career development activities, departmental activities and other activities of the HEIs have to be regularly carried out regularly. For that each and every faculty member has to devote extra time. She said that it is important to introduce reforms and innovations in different aspects of an HEIs. Innovation, she said, is the key to development of an HEI.

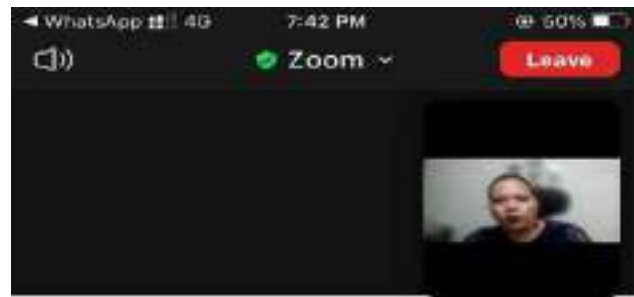

After the presentation of the resource person, participants took part in a question and answer session. Many participants put crucial questions to Dr. Bansal with regard to different criteria in the AQAR. ## AY INTERDISCIPLINARY WORKSHOP ON ELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS (IPR)

Organised By
IQAC, Barbhag College
Date: 10th January, 2022

Keeping in view the importance of Intellectual Property Rights, the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of Barbhag College has organised a one-day interdisciplinary workshop on Intellectual Property rights (IPR) on 10th January, 2022. The workshop was held by keeping in mind the restriction imposed by the district administration due to the outbreak of the third wave of COVID-19. Though limited in numbers, faculty of different colleges attended the workshop. At the beginning of the workshop, the Keynote address was given by Ajit Sarma, HOD, English Department of Barbhag College and the welcome address was given by Nivedita Goswami, Principal-in-charge of Barbhag College. Dr. Dhaneswar Baisya, Associate Professor of Political Science department chaired the sessions of the workshop.

The workshop was divided into two technical sessions. In the first session, Siddhartha Devnath, Scientist 'C', Patent Information Centre, Assam Science, Technology and Environment Council (ASTEC) was presented as the Special guest, who graced the occasion with his vast knowledge on the discussed topic of the workshop. The topic of his speech was "Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) and Patent". Describing Intellectual Property, he said that the intellectual properties are those things that are created in mind and expressed in some form or other. It must have the proof of ownership and should be recognised under the act of law. He cited the examples of light bulbs, pen, jewellery, etc as intellectual property. Elaborating ideas on intellectual rights, he also mentioned some forms of intellectual property, like inventions, designs, mark used in trade-brand name, mark used in goods to show its geographical origin, layout designs of integrated Circuit (IC), new varieties of plants, and literary, artistic, musical creation as well. He also talked about the rights enjoyed by people under intellectual property, like rights to enjoy the owner of an intellectual property, right to exploit, license, assign, surrender etc as the owner. Talking about the different types of intellectual property, he also mentioned the legislations enacted by the Government of India for maintaining intellectual property. Examples of such legislations are The Patent Act (1970), The Design Act (2000), The Trademark Act (1999), and The Geographical Indications of Goods (Registration and Protection act, 1999) etc that play key role in maintaining intellectual property ownership. By imparting his knowledge on one of the major concepts of intellectual property i.e. “Copyright” he mentioned about patent and also about its significance for owners. He described patent as a legal grant of exclusive rights for an invention (product or process) provided by the government to the creator of a new and useful invention. Under the Patent Act of 1970, the inventor gets patent rights for a period of 20 years. He also elaborately discussed some criteria of patent, like novelty, inventive step, industrial applicability etc. In his speech, he also made a difference between the inventions that can be patented and those which cannot be patented. At the end, he talked about the different stages of patent from application to grant, fees and process of patent.

After a short break, the second session of the workshop began. Dipen Deka, Assistant Professor, Department of Library and Information Science of Gauhati University was the special guest in this session. The topic of his speech was “Copyright”. He discussed copyright mainly in relation to literary and fictional creations. To him, the copyright procedure in India is maintained by the Copyright Act of 1957. He mentioned that people can cite other’s works with proper acknowledgement and prior permission of the owner of the copyright for research or private study, for reporting current events and in connection with judicial proceedings. He identified the creators who are given copyright rights. Those are: a music composer, a film producer, a sound producer, a photographer and also an author who creates literary works. He also mentioned that copyright is also assignable for future work too. The term of copyright in literary works is 60 years and the performer’s right is 25 years. Again, he also talked about “Plagiarism” and what causes plagiarism and advised people the method how to avoid the fault of plagiarism.

A total of 40 participants from various colleges took part in this one-day workshop and made it a huge success.
